Michele Fuller-Hallauer:

Michelle Fuller Hallauer Clark County social service, collaborative applicant for the Southern Nevada Homelessness COC. I just wanted to let everybody know that, given the uh the increase in the enormous increase in covid positive cases here in Southern Nevada and the most recent guidance from HUD. We will be postponing our homeless point in time count until February 24th. HUD allowed us to do that. HUD recently released a guidance that if communities have done a point in time count and Unsheltered Point in time count in 2021, they can actually inform HUD and opt out of doing a point in time count this year. Which previous guidance had stated that this year was a mandatory year but given the increase in covid cases over the weekend sent out a communication that they have made a change in that guidance. So, at this point, the Southern Nevada homelessness COC we are postponing our count until the 24th of February. When it gets closer to that time, we will be reevaluating where we are with our covid infection rate, and determining whether we will be doing a full canvassing count, weather will be doing a sampling or whether our code infection rate is still hot, as high as it is, and whether we're actually going to cancel our account or not. So I'll keep everybody abreast on where we are as we get closer to that time. I just wanted folks to know where we are thank you.

Chair McNeil:

Thank you, Michelle and thank you for the update. Are there any further comments on it public comments agenda item VIII.?

Greg Herrera:

Greg Herrera for the record and thanks for that Michelle for Washoe County. The last I heard we were still go for the 27th of January. But that has not that has been something that's not been discussed. We too have a vast increase in our covid rates so I'll be reaching out to county management team to find out if that's going to affect our point in time count as well and I'll uh report back uh so everybody knows as soon as possible, but uh lasted I had heard as recently as Monday, yesterday that we were still ago for the end of January.

Chair McNeil:

If there are no other public comments, this meeting is adjourned.

Adjourned 2:13 p.m.
