NAC 425.100 Order must be based upon obligor's earnings, income and other ability to pay; basic needs of child presumed met if child support obligation based upon ~~guidelines~~guideline schedule; ~~deviation from guidelines~~adjustments to guideline schedule. (NRS 425.620)

1. Any order must be based on the obligor's earnings, income, and other evidence of ability to pay, including imputed income.

2. A child support order is intended to address the obligor's legal obligation to assist the obligee in meeting the basic needs of the child. It is presumed that the basic needs of a child are met by a child support obligation established pursuant to the ~~guidelines set forth in this chapter~~ schedule for determining a child support obligation, however, this presumption may be rebutted by evidence proving that the needs of a particular child are not met or are exceeded by such a child support obligation.

3. If the court establishes a child support obligation that is greater or less than the child support obligation that would be established pursuant to the ~~guidelines~~guideline schedule set forth in this chapter, the court must:

(a) Set forth findings of fact ~~as to the basis for the deviation from the guidelines;~~
~~and~~

~~(b) Provide in the findings of fact~~including the child support obligation that would have been established pursuant to the ~~guidelines~~guideline schedule; and

(b) Provide in the findings of fact the basis for the adjustment from the guideline schedule.
